

The Australian Women's Register

Entry type: Person
Entry ID: AWE0901

Langley, Ruth Isobel

Occupation Community worker, Health worker, Volunteer

Summary

Ruth Langley was awarded the Medal of the Order of Australia (OAM) for service to community health particularly through the Asthma Foundation of South Australia on 26 January 1990. During World War II she completed voluntary work at the Cheer Up hut and joined the SA Transport Service. A member of the Lyceum Club Langley also was involved with the Adelaide Symphony Orchestra and the Asthma Medical Foundation.

Published resources

Resource

Trove, National Library of Australia, 2009

Archival resources

State Library of South Australia

[Recording of reminiscences at Lyceum Club's 70th Anniversary Dinner \[sound recording\]](#)

[Interview with Ruth Langley \[sound recording\]](#) Interviewer: Roxy Byrne

[Address by Ruth Langley \[sound recording\]](#)

Author Details

Anne Heywood and Robin Secomb

Created 19 April 2004

Last modified 14 February 2019